

Arc De Triomphe

This monument located at the Place l'Etoile, overlooking the Champs-Élysées, is the biggest arch in the world. The art was commissioned in 1806 by Napoleon to celebrate his victory at Austerlitz. This Louis Philippe architectural design was worked on by architects Chalgrin, Joust and Blouet. From the top of the arch visitors get a panoramic view of Paris from two viewpoints.

Château de Versailles

The Château de Versailles is one of the world's most famous monuments. The buildings trace the architectural style of the 17th and 18th centuries and comprise: the Royal Apartments, the hall of Mirrors, the Chapel, the Royal Opera and the Museum of the history of France.

What to see

Paris won't be Paris without the famous monuments in recent history. These include: The Eiffel Tower, The Louvre Museum, The Arc De Triomphe, and Many More. Something magical and majestic happens when these monuments are illuminated by the city lights throughout the evening.

The Eiffel Tower

The one monument most visitors won't want to miss, The Eiffel Tower was built for the Exposition Universelle of 1889 and just recently celebrated its 120th anniversary in 2009.
