PUERTO PRINCESA

GATEWAY TO PALAWAN ISLAND

2 DAYS, 1 NIGHT

After a short stopover in Manila, you can catch a plane and go straight to Puerto Princesa, Palawan. The first destination on the list.

You can visit the village of Sabang on the underground river or visit the special Open Prison. There are lots of beautiful beaches nearby like the Honda Bay, Nagtabon Beach, Talaudyong Beach, and Monkey Beach Sabang.

As the Philippines' second largest city in terms of land area, there are many interesting places to see and things to do here.

The urban center is compact and easy to navigate, while the vast majority of Puerto Princesa is occupied by verdant forest, soaring mountains, and a coastline fringed by vast mangrove forests, remote beach coves and scenic bays dotted with beautiful islets.

3 DAYS, 2 NIGHTS

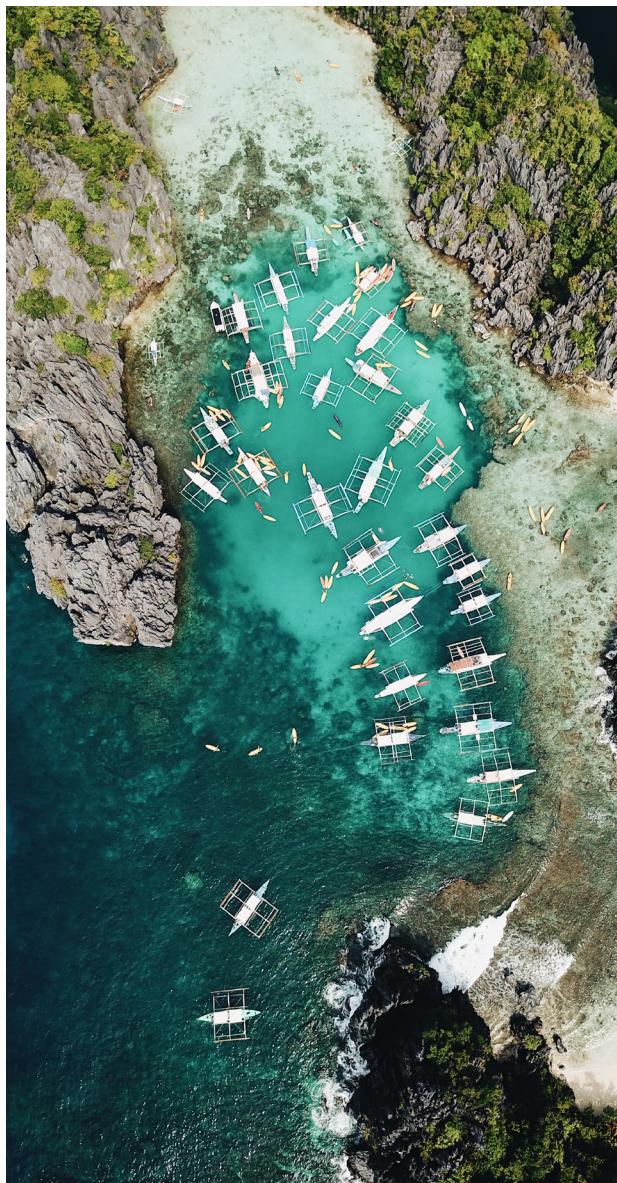

Another 7 hours by bus toward the north and you will arrive in El Nido.

El Nido has been named a number of times by travel publication sites as the best island beaches in the world because of its paradise-like attractions with white sand, turquoise waters, vibrant coral reefs, and stunning limestone cliffs.

El Nido the gateway to the awe-inspiring Bacuit Archipelago which houses 45 islands and islets, each with its unique geological formations.

It's no wonder that El Nido has been ranked consistently as one of the best island destinations not just in the Philippines, but in the world.

There are a lot of things to do in El Nido from island-hopping, lounging on beaches, hiking up cliffs, and even scuba diving. Reading this guide on El Nido, Palawan will make it easy for you to plan a trip and maximize your time in one of the best islands in the Philippines.

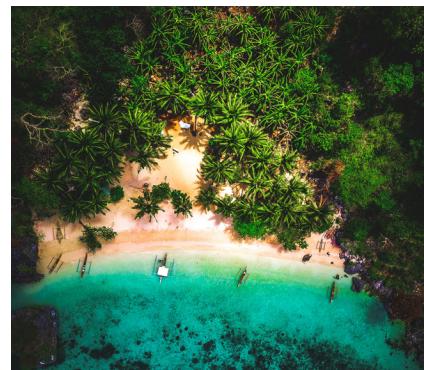

EL NIDO

FRIENDLY PARADISE

CORON TOWN

NORTHERN ISLAND OF PALAWAN

3 DAYS, 2 NIGHTS

Our last destination is Coron Town. The Northern Island of Palawan. You can reach Coron from El Nido by boat.

Coron is a fantastic base for adventure, especially for underwater explorers seeking to dive amid the Japanese shipwrecks of the 1940s. Hop a guided mangrove kayak tour or practise your killer spike on the beach-volleyball court at Atwayan Beach.

Jungle treks, horseback tours and island camping will further quench your thirst for the ultimate outdoor experience.

While El Nido is popular with couples and honeymooners and beach lovers, Coron is a bit more laid-back and is suitable for family vacations and for diving adventures.
